Dear Peruvian Adventurer,

Thank you so much for your interest in Project Inti's Munay Tour – Opening the Heart, September 2-10, 2019! Since 2011, our non-profit has been providing aid and education to underserved children and families living in the high Andes of Peru. Some of our past projects have included teaching Leave No Trace principles, basic first aid, basic nutrition, proper hygiene, and disease prevention in addition to providing basic aid. We are thrilled to have you join us and learn about Inca culture and spirituality, heal your inner self, challenge yourself with adventure travel, and have an intimate exchange through outreach to underserved families.

Please review the following items carefully as you consider applying for this trip:

Application

- The group will have a minimum of 10 persons, plus two trip leaders. Accommodations and prices are based on double occupancy. If you desire a single supplement, that price can be quoted separately upon request.
- Before applying, you may want to check with your employer and other important parties to make sure you have the available time to partake in an adventure travel trip.
- Once you apply, you will be notified if you are accepted for the outing. Once accepted, please submit a $350 deposit to reserve a place (see also Cancellation Policy, Payment Schedule, and Waiver in next steps). The remaining balance is due by July 10, 2019.
- Make sure you have a current passport that does not expire within 6 months of travel dates.

This trip includes:

This trip includes all tours including English speaking guides, boutique hotels, hot spring accommodations, camping, tents, dining tent, chefs, porters, and horsemen, program costs, all meals, tips, transportation and transfers, entrance tickets to Inca sites, Machu Picchu, and Wayna Picchu, Shaman Blessing Ceremony, bike rental and gear, yoga and meditation instruction, and yoga massage.

Not Included:

Not included are airfare, trip insurance, personal snacks, souvenirs, and miscellaneous.

Your Trip Leaders

Participants must understand and accept that the leaders are also a participant on the trip. Trip leaders are not employees of Project Inti, but rather volunteers that provide knowledge of the areas the trip visits. It is understood that the volunteer's individual abilities, skills, equipment, and actions are not independently controlled or verified by Project Inti.

Prerequisites

Prerequisites for the trip are a good attitude, patience, an open mind, and good physical conditioning as we will be hiking distances approximately 8-10 miles for two consecutive days (slow and steady pace). We will be hiking at high altitudes over a variety of terrains and elevations—our highest elevation at over 14,000 ft. We will take time to acclimate to elevations. There will be plenty of stops, please don't worry. We will have a short downhill mountain bike ride. It is non-technical and on a dirt road. By agreeing to this trip, you are verifying that you are comfortable and confident with these activities.

Upon payment and receipt of signed docs, we will provide you a complete packet to prepare you for your trip. You should plan to bring a day pack that will carry equipment comparable to what you would bring on a typical Colorado day hike during the Spring months. Temperatures will get down into the 40's so bring layers!! Make sure you bring a water container to refill during our hikes. In addition to your day pack, you are allowed one piece of luggage (we strongly recommend carry-on size as you will be carrying it on/off vans, buses, and along sidewalks that may be cobblestone or dirt roads).

As your trip leader, please know that I have been leading groups and doing non-profit work in Peru for the past 10 years. I am thrilled to be sharing this experience with you! I am happy to answer any questions you may have.

With warm regards,

Angie Parris-Raney
